

The Master Classes

Memory Acting Techniques

with Dr. Ellen Rooney

Why can't we remember lines in rehearsal when we remember them perfectly at home? Why do we always call out "line" anyway? And why are "memorizing lines" so overwhelming? Join Dr. Rooney as she gives actors a better understanding of the relationship between their creative process and their memory process. We will introduce different types of memory actors integrate into scenes and how to use them to build performances.
